

Community Resource List

Family Voices

Family Voices (FV) is a national grassroots network of families and friends with children and youth with special health care needs. Through a national network of chapters in each state, FV provides families with tools to advocate for improved public and private policies, and build partnerships among professionals and families.

Family-to-Family Health Information Centers

Family-to-Family Health Information Centers (F2F HICs) are non-profit, family staffed organizations that help families of children and youth with special health care needs (CYSHCN) and the professionals who serve them. Connecting with F2F HICs can help pediatricians and other pediatric clinicians to better assist patients, families, and caregivers with the navigation of services and systems for CYSHCN.

Parent to Parent USA

This grassroots organization offers guidance to families of children with special health care needs through a vast peer-support network.

Center for Parent Information and Resources

This national center provides resources, education, and technical assistance for parents and family members related to children and youth with special health care needs.

State Title V Programs

Title V of the 1935 Social Security Act is a Federal block grant program which works to promote maternal and child health at the local, state, and federal levels. Many state Title V programs can be helpful to families and clinicians caring for children and youth with special health care needs. View the state specific Title V Maternal and Child Health contacts, including those for children and youth with special health care needs programs.

Bright Futures

This national health promotion and disease prevention initiative contains ample resources for families, clinicians, caregivers, and community members looking to address children's health needs.

Community Services Locator

This online directory is designed to help service providers and families find available national, state, and local resources that can address child and family needs. Topics include: education and special needs, health and wellness, mental health and well-being, family support, parenting, childcare and early childhood education, and financial support.

National Center for Medical Home Implementation State Pages

The National Center for Medical Home Implementation state pages are an excellent source for additional information and resources specific to each state. This section includes information on state pediatric medical home initiatives, key contacts, partners, and related grant activities and initiatives.